THE CONVENTION'S SIXTH DAY.

Graphic Account of the Work Done at

(RPECIAL TO THE SVENING WORLD.)
CRICAGO, June 25.—There was a big representation of ladies in the convention this norning, and their gay costumes made the hall look more brilliant than it has at any time since the convention began.

There was order, too, for the period of shouting and sheer noise has passed. Interest in the question of the hour is at too high a tension to find reitef in the waving of flags or shouting the names and slogans of candidates.

Every seat in the hall was taken, save three

Every seat in the hall was taken, save three or four in the New York delegation, and at 11 o'clock promptly Chairman Estee, who has regained his voice, called the convention nas regained his voice, called the convention to order.

After prayer was offered the band played "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and the business began.

When Mr. Boutelle arose to read the message from Mr. Blaine the convention broke out into chers and loud cries of "Platform," "Platform."

The audience plainly understood his mission. His eloquent reference to the devotion of the Maine delegation to Mr. Blaine called for renewed choers. His introduction was brief and feeling. These were the despatches he read:

(Eigned.)

Brief applause followed the reading of each despatch, but it was evident that the effect had been discounted, and few persons vere greatly surprised. There were no expressions of disapproval.

In spite of these despatches just read, the vote recorded, that of Alabama, contained one for James G. Blaine. The next moment California took the convention by surprise by casting her vote solidly for Blaine. When that was announced there was great applause; but the expected stampede did not come.

The other States showed little disposition to change their vote of Saturday.

Fred Grant and his wife laughed heartily at Georgia's one vote for him, and the friends sitting about him chaffed him terribly about it. convention whatever as yet.

The three votes of Kansas for Blaine started a little obser, and McKinley's first cheer from Kentucky and his second from Maine started rustles of expectation. Foraker's 1 from Maine also induced a little cheer.

The convention noted the wide-scattering of Maine's vote with considerable amusement, taking it as the result of the Blaine despatches. Utah-Harrison 2. Allison was their favort Wyoming-Harrison 2. Sherman loses them. Montana-Harrison, 2. Allison and Greshan despatches.

As the roll proceeded, Alger's gaining strength in the Western and Southern States began to attract attention, but when Mr. Depew announced New York's 72 votes for Gen. Harrison, the Indiana yell rose above Delegates are cheering. Everybedy is shouting,

The Harrison men in the audience were greatly disappointed that New York's solid accession did not make a bigger figure in the result than a net gain of 18 over Baturday's last ballot. There was not enough change in the other votes to cause any enthusiasm.

When Chairman Haymond, of California, announced the first break in that delegation and cast the State's vote for Harrison there was mingled applanse and hisses. The 18 votes could not be delivered on the poll, one delegate refusing to vote. Still it looked like the beginning of a stampede.

Harrison's gain of three in Florida, in a moment or two, strengthened the expectation and it looked more than ever like Harrison when Kansas gave him a gain of 6 and Kentucky a gain of 8. Maine gave him one and Maryland 3, over the last ballot and expectation of Harrison's success rose higher and higher, His gain of 4 in Massachusetts gave it another boost and Minnesota another. The galleries began to look excited and expectant, and gave New York a cheer for a starter.

The demand of the poll of Pennsylvania showed the vote Dherman 52, Harrison 8, instead of Sherman 67, Harrison 3, as Chairman Quay announced, and the break gave the galleries another bit of happiness.

THE ONLY FUN on this ballot was the one yote that long-bearded, eccentric Creed Haymond, of Cali-fornia, got from Texas. There was a big fornia, got from Texas. There was a big laugh over that.

The result of the ballot disappointed the expectation of a nomination.

Just before the vote was announced Chairmen Henderson, of Iowa, representing Allison, and Quay, of Pennsylvania, for Sherman, came up to Mr. Depew and Tom Platt, and had an earnest consultation with them. In a few moments they were joined by Hanna, of Ohio.

ALLISON WITHDRAWS. Chairman Henderson arose as soon as the result was announced and in one sentence withdrew the name of Senator Allison from the contest. This was the result of the con-ference held a minute before.

HUBBUB PREVAILS. The convention was then in a hubbub. Delegates crowded the sisles. Thousands of the spectators arose to their 'Harrison," was whispered from mouth to mouth.

A majority of the Pennsylvania delegation arose and held a consultation. Then they filed out of the half for conference. How Intelligent Wemen Decide.

New Jersey appeared to settle it. She sent in her 18 votes for Harrison, and if Pennsyl-vania fell into line he would be nominated. New York remained true to Harrison. HARRISON GETS THERE.

When Pennsylvania was called the Chair-man announced 59 votes for Harrison, and man announced 59 votes for Harrison, and there was no longer any doubt.

Rhode Island gave Harrison a sufficient number, and he was nominated.

There was not much appiause or enthusi-asm until the announcement of his nomina-tion was made by the Chairman, and then the convention and spectators broke loose.

The delegates cheered, and the agony was over.

MR. BLAINE CABLES TO HIS PRIENDS. Blaine Is Out!" New the Cry at Chicago-The Situation This Morning.

IMPROLAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I CHICAGO, June 25 .- The chief plotters in the Blaine or Bust movement were in conference until after 1 o'clock this morning. Nearly every State and Territory was represented, and among the more prominent friends of the Plumed Knight who were present were: B. F. Jones, Chairman of the National Committee; Stephen B. Elkins, Powell Clayton, of Arkansas; Joseph Manley, of Maine; ex-Gov. Warmoth, of Louisiana; S. B. Fessenden, of Connecticut; Creed Haymond, of California; Charles Emory Smith, of Philadelphia, and about fifty others. Mr. Depew was asked to attend, but begged to be excused.

The conference was an exciting one, owing to many differences of opinion, and at one time came nigh breaking up in confusion. The red-hot Blaineites wanted to adopt a rule-or-ruin policy, and appeared determined to force the convention on reassembling to-day into a Blaine and anti-Blaine fight. The cooler heads advocated the appointment of a Nearly every State and Territory was repre into a Blaine and anti-Blaine fight. The cooler heads advocated the appointment of a sub-committee to decide what was best to be done in Mr. Blaine's interest, with power to spring his name upon the convention at any time they thought proper.

This suggestion was approved, and Creed Haymond, of California, Chairman; Samuel Fessenden, of Connecticut: Powell Clayton, of Arkanesa; H. Burden, of Massachusetts; Charles Emory Smith, of Pennsylvania, and Gen. Maney, of Tennessee, were named as the sub-committee. The committee was instructed to report this morning at 9.30.

A meeting of the committee was held after the adjournment, at which canvassers were appointed to poll carefully each delegation, and get the name of every Blaine supporter. The canvassers started out at 1 o'clook this morning. Many delegates were pulled out of their beds.

NR. ELKINS EXPLAINS MR. BLAINE'S POSITION.

MR. ELKINS EXPLAINS MR. BLAINE'S POSITION Stephen S. Elkins this morning makes the following statement about last night's conference:

"I want what I say to go to the country as the unqualified sentiment of the leading friends of Mr. Blaine. There has been much misunderstanding in the matter, both by the misunderstanding in the matter, both by the public and those who represent the public in this convention. Mr. Blaius is not a candidate before the convention unless by and with the consent of at least four of the leading candidates now before it. He will not be placed in nomination under any circumstances and his friends trust that his friends in the convention will refrain from voting for him until every, other man has had an opportunity for the nomination.

pew announced New York's 72 votes for Gen. Harrison, the Indiana yell rose above every other sound.

Ohio's solidity for Sherman excited great surprise, as it had been understood that the delegation was about to break, away from the Sherman allegiance. When the vote was challenged and the poll demanded it appeared that there had been a little break, after which the delegate who demanded the poll voted for Harrison, while the Indiana delegation raised the roof again.

At Blaine's gain of four in Tennessee the galleries broke out with a demonstration, but the Chairman quickly rapped them down.

A little fun was extracted out of the proceedings when Virginia was reached and Mr. Manley, will insist on this, and they are supported by every clear-headed, honest friend of Mr. Blaine. Of course there are a friend of Mr. Blaine. Of course there are a friend of Mr. Blaine. Of course there are everywhere, and they are attempting to force things, but such a move will be deprecated by those who understand Mr. Blaine's relation to this convention in view of his letters.

The convention laughed a Mahone man off his feet when he tried to explain the boyish quarrel, and the poll of the State had to be gone through with again.

Utmost slience greeted the reading of the totals.

TO OPPOSE A STAMPEDE.

"I can now say to you that there will be no stampeding. The other candidates must have their day in the convention, and then, if there is no nomination and the representatives of at least four candidates conclude that Mr. Blaine is the only solution to the dilemma, they can nominate him, and I have no doubt he will accept it.

"But we must have it practically unanimous or we will not listen to it. At any rate, we are intent on holding down those whose blind fidelity to Mr. Blaine would make it appear that he wished to obtain the nomination by antagonizing the other candidates."

There are all sorts of rumors about the intention of the Blaine or Busters. The action of the sub-committee is impatiently awaited. tention of the Blaine or Busters. The action of the sub-committee is impatiently awaited. The anti-Blaine people appear determined to fight the Blaineites to the last ditch, and if the war is carried into the convention the Sherman, Allison, Harrison, Gresham and Alger elements will unite to stop the Blaine cyclone. Then the convention would resolve itself into a Blaine and anti-Blaine convention. Peaceful missionaries of the G. O. P. are this morning at work to prevent a circus. They are urging the Blaine men to muzzle their dogs of war. their dogs of war.

"Congressman Boutelle received the cable-Congressian Boutene received the cable-gram from Mr. Blaine. It was dated at Edinburgh yesterday. It was read to the sub-committee in charge of Mr. Blaine's campaign this morning. The text was as follows: 'I think I have a right to request my friends to respect my letters'"

This cablegram has thrown the Blaine or Busters into confusion They are all at sea and may become demoralized. Their conference committees have met and adjourned to the call of their Chairman.

The New York delegates have decided to cast 72 solid votes for Harrison. They met at 10 o'clock and were in session only a few moments. Mr. Depew presided. He spoke in favor of the delegation acting as a unit. Senator Hiscock said that the delegation should stand by Harrison. A roll-call was ordered. Every delegate named Harrison as his choice. All the Blaine people voted for Harrison, Mr. Sherman's name was not mentioned. This action is binding until the delegation hold another meeting.

OUR LIGHTNING BULLETINS.

They Told the Story of Harrison's Nomi nation 'Way Ahead of All Others.

The news of the nomination of Harrison was given to the great crowd gathered in front of THE EVENING WORLD'S bulleting board eight minutes ahead of any other news paper, and only a few seconds after the nomination was made.

THE EVERING WORLD'S BULLETIN.

As the eighth ballot proceeded men stood before the bulletin board ready to put up the news before the anxious and excited crowd on the street below, and just as THE EVENING WORLD'S special wire to the convention ticked off "Harrison nomin—..." the anticked off "Harrison nomin—," the announcement was pasted up in a conspicuous place.

The Mail and Express followed eight minutes later, and in ten minutes the important young man on the Herald's bulletin platform deliberately turned up the name of the Republican Presidential nominee.

A man who had passed THE WORLD office carried the news down to the Herold's audi-ence, saying: "Why, don't you men know the news? Harrison has been nominated several minutes. THE EVENING WORLD SAYS An Evening World reporter, watch in hand, timed the bulletins.

gered Houses. Three alarms were sent out in rapid sucession this morning for a fire which was discovered at about 9.20 o'clock in the five-story brick block with mansard roof, extending from Thirty-eighth to Thirty-ninth streets in First avenue.

The buildings were occupied by the cigarmaking firms of Lichtenstein Brothers and Foster & Hillson. A PANIC AMONG EMPLOYEES.

There were 1.300 employees in the build ings, a third of whom were girls, and the right and excitement among these people was terrible to witness. There were 350 men and boys and 150 women and girls in Foster & Hillson's factory, which is situated on the southwest corner of First avenue and a Thirty-ninth street.

James Martin, the young man in charge of the elevator, discovered the fire on the upper floor, which is used as a packing-room.

Situated in a peculiarly dangerous district, with large tenement-houses all around it and big gas tanks in its immediate neighborhood, the fire early aroused a panic among the people, and hurried preparations were begun for removal from the tenements.

At Fortieth street and First avenue are located the gas works in which the fatal explosion of last November occurred.

The fire got a most advantageous start, and although the firemen responded promptly to the alarms, they found a discouraging place of work out out for them when they arrived at the scene. women and girls in Foster & Hillson's facthe scene.

Inside the high walls of the building there leaf

Inside the high walls of the building there was a seething mass of flame, the flarce heat from which, added to the extreme torridity of the day, made life and work almost unbearable in the vicinity.

Streams of water from the engines and a deluge from the water tower fell into the mass of flames almost without visible effect. At 10 o'clock half of the front wall fell in, from Thirty-ninth street down, and as the ruins toppled over and crashed down there was a great upshoot of flame and sparks, which seemed to threaten destruction for everything in the neighborhood.

Bravely and unfilinchingly the firemen worked in the almost crematory temperature.

THE WATER SUPPLY FAILS.

THE WATER SUPPLY PAILS. To the other difficulties of the situs were added very soon the failure of the water supply.

Chief Shay sent out the signal for an increase in the water head, but it was of no avail. The streams could not be forced even to the fourth floor of the burning structure.

Fire boats were summoned to come to the furnish aid.

The firemen had long before been compelled to give all their efforts towards saving adjoining buildings, as the heat had driven them from the hopelessly enveloped factory structure. Originating in the Foote & Hillson factory, the fiames spread to Lichtenstein Brothers manufactory in the Thirty-eighth street end of the block, and that, too, was speedily inmanifactory in the Inity-sight steet end of the block, and that, too, was speedily involved in the ruin.

In the early part of the fire, the fire-escapes and stairways were filled with employees, men, women and children, crying, screaming and struggling in their mad rush for safety.

A dozen girls clambered excitedly down the fire-escape ladders on both sides of the building from the upper floors, several of them appearing in imminent danger of losing their hold and dropping to the pavement a hundred feet below.

By almost a miracle the hundreds of employees escaped without the loss of a life.

At 11 o'clock the fire had practically burned itself out in the factories, so rapidly had it consumed its light food, and the efforts towards saving surrounding buildings having been successful, the blaze was pronounced under centrol.

Tenements and blocks in all directions had received severe scorchings, and their integers its least and blocks in the second of th

The burned building was owned by George Ehret, the brewer.

Estimates very carefully made put the total loss at $250,000.

While Chief Shay was on the roof of the building a tongue of flame with a sudden leap robbed him of a portion of his mustache and burned his face.

John Welsh, of Engine 8, was overcome by the heat, but revived when taken away.
